Eric Baranick

Senior Operations and Project Manager

eric_baranick@gwu.edu

Senior Operations and Project Manager with 20+ years of global development and humanitarian assistance expertise

Linkedin

Contact

20 Years of experience

Professional Bio:

Eric is a seasoned operations leader with over 20+ years of experience managing complex programs, large-scale budgets, and multidisciplinary teams around the world. Eric spent nearly five years with the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), leading high-impact global health and disaster response initiatives. As a senior leader in USAID's Tuberculosis Division, he managed a portfolio of $400 million dollars across 24 countries. Earlier, Eric led the USAID's Zika response, overseeing a $365 million dollar portfolio spanning 20 countries throughout Latin America and the Caribbean. Eric spent 15 years living and working overseas in leadership and technical positions with the American Red Cross in Panama, Peru, El Salvador, India, Armenia, and Nicaragua. Eric holds a Doctor of Management from the University of Maryland Global Campus and a Master's of Public Health from The George Washington University. He is

Skills & Expertise:

International Development; Public Health; Emergency Relief

Sectors of Work:

Program/Project Management; Grants Management; Global Health; Humanitarian Assistance; Budget & Finance; Strategic Planning

Languages Spoken:

English, Spanish

fluent in Spanish and began his service as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Nicaragua from 1992 to 1994.

JOIN US

contact@wice.org.

WICE